

BIG HOTEL BURNS
AT LAKE BEULAH.

The Loss To The Owners and Summer Guests is Heavy.

THREE CHILDREN ROASTED AT SPRING GREEN.

Marsh Fires Still Raging at Appleton and Green Bay—Fond du Lac Visited by a Blaze That Swept Away the Lumber Yards of Moore & Galloway Entailing a Loss of $250,000—Fire at Rockford—Other Blazes.

Lake Beulah, Wis., Sept. 23.—[Special]—The Beulah Hotel, a fine summer hostelry at this place, burned early this morning, entailing a loss of $30,000, with but $15,000 insurance. There were a number of guests in the hotel, all of whom escaped injury, although they lost from $300 to $500 each in clothing, jewelry, etc.

Spring Green, Wis., Sept. 23.—[Special]—Three children of Mr. and Mrs. Slawson, living near this village, were burned to death yesterday afternoon. Their mother left them in the house while she went to get a pail of water from a spring a mile away, and the fire caught in her absence.

Appleton, Wis., Sept. 23.—[Special]—Marsh fires are still raging. During the high wind yesterday a section of swamp two miles square was burned over and considerable timber was destroyed. Many farmers are in danger of losing their all.

Green Bay, Wis., Sept. 23.—Forest and marsh fires have broken out and the flames are raging along the west shores of Green Bay and in the north-west timber land of Door county. An extensive fire is sweeping through the northern part of the Oneida reservation, west of this city, and threatens destruction to many farm buildings. The wind is blowing a hurricane. The flames are spreading rapidly in all directions. Dense clouds of smoke hang over the bay, making navigation difficult.

Fond du Lac, Wis., Sept. 24.—With a wind blowing at the rate of forty miles an hour, fire broke out at 2:35 yesterday afternoon in the extreme southwest corner of the lumber yards of Moore & Galloway, situated in North Fond du Lac. The yards and plant of the company embraced a territory nearly thirty acres in extent, and the whole was directly in the path of the wind. Just how the fire started no one knows, but it is presumed that the lumber pile ignited from a mass of burning weeds that were set on fire by a lighted cigar thrown carelessly by a Sunday stroller.

So fierce was the wind that it was early clear that the entire property was doomed. Had there been no wind loss would probably have been equally great, as the four hydrants used in the yards were located on a six-inch main, 1,400 feet long, and for the first half hour twenty foot streams were the best that could be obtained.

The vast lumber piles were licked up by the flames, and the high wind carried the sparks to all portions of the yard, driving firemen and sight-seers on a run to points of safety.

The lumber mill caught on the west end, and in four minutes was a complete ruin. Two Wabash cars and eight cars owned by the Chicago and Northwestern, lying on sidetracks, were destroyed. A warehouse containing sash, doors and blinds and one of the smaller offices of the company went up in the conflagration.

Acting Mayor Givens telegraphed for assistance to Oshkosh, Appleton and Neenah at 4 o'clock, and the former city responded with one engine as quickly as possible returning the favor extended by this city only a few days ago.

It is estimated that the yards contained 100,000,000 feet of sawed pine lumber, valued at $175,000. The mill cost $25,000. On the latter $15,000 insurance was carried. Only estimates on the amount of insurance on the lumber can be secured, but it will probably reach $50,000.

At 7 o'clock the flames spread to the blasting furnace of the Wisconsin Furnace company, and it was entirely destroyed; loss $25,000. The plant has been idle for the past two years.

Rockford, Ill., Factory Burns.

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 23.—The Rockford Cabinet Company's factory was burned yesterday night at a late hour. The fire originated from an explosion in the paint room and spread with great rapidity. The Rockford Cabinet Company has been organized several years, and was one of the most prosperous of the local furniture companies. The entire loss will foot up to $75,000, including $15,000 worth of orders, which were on hand in a partially finished condition. The insurance amounts $40,000. The company will rebuild.

Yacht Race Not Likely

London, Sept. 23.—The secretary of the Royal Yacht squadron writes to the banking firm of Laycock, Goodfellow & Bell that he has cabled their offer of £1,000 for a race between Defender and Valkyrie III. In other that American waters, to the New York Yacht club, but that he fears it is too late in the season to arrange the match.

AFTER MEAT PACKERS.

Government to Take Action Against Prominent Men.

New York, Sept. 23.—It has been determined on the part of the United States authorities—that is, by President Cleveland, Attorney-General Harmon, and Secretary Morton—to turn over all the proofs which the department of agriculture has been able to collect in its late investigation touching high priced beef, to the attorney-general of the State of Illinois.

These proofs will be accompanied by the suggestion that, in the judgment of the national officers, this proof shows conclusively an illegal combination exists at Chicago for the purposes of affecting the prices of beef and other meats; that this combination is a clear violation of the law of the State of Illinois against trusts, and the attorney-general and governor of the state will be asked to go thoroughly over the proofs and specifications which the United States authorities have thus far furnished, and, acting on it, procure an indictment in the State courts, particularly the criminal courts of Cook county, of those whose names appear as violators of the law. Among the names prominent on the list are those of the members of the firms of Nelson Morris & Co., Hammond & Co., Armour & Co., and Swift & Co.

LEAVING CHATTANOOGA.

Dedication Ceremonies at an End and Comrades Part.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 23.—The visitors are rapidly leaving the city. At 9 o'clock yesterday morning the Tennessee troops, 900 strong, broke camp, and scattered to their homes. The Ohio troops leave for Cincinnati at 1 o'clock this afternoon on two special trains. By to-morrow the dedication and the crowd will be completely a thing of the past. A feature of the week was the experiments made with the heliograph by the Fourteenth Infantry of Ohio. Messages were transmitted for twenty miles by sun flashes. Friday the corps had the most successful day, the weather being almost perfect for heliographing. A signal party was sent to Snodgrass hill, one to Lookout mountain and one remained in camp, and before the mists of the valley had cleared away communication by means of sun flashes were established between the camp and Snodgrass hill, via Lookout mountain, a distance of over twenty miles. Nearly 100 messages were transmitted and clearly interpreted.

Alabama Iron for Honolulu.

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 23.—The Howard Harrison Iron company, of Bessemer, Ala., has been awarded a contract by the municipal government of the city of Honolulu for furnishing 30,000 tons of iron pipe to be used in the construction of waterworks for that place. Vice President Nichols, of the company, returned from St. Louis today, where he met the agents of the Honolulu municipality, with whom he signed the contract which was secured over a large number of American and European manufacturers. This is the second big lot of Alabama iron pipe sold in foreign lands recently, the Aniston Pipe company having secured a contract for supplying the city of Tokio with 5,000 tons of pipe for waterworks two months ago.

Sensational Rumor Denied.

St. Johns, N. F., Sept. 23.—A sensational report is current, set afloat by the crew of the Peary steamer Kite, to the effect that they were bringing home the bones of one of the Greely party from Cape Sabine, where nearly all of Greely's men perished from starvation. About ten years ago, at the time General Greely was rescued, twelve bodies were found of the twenty who died, and no traces of the others were found then. The place has never been revisited since until the Kite went there in August and landed men who made explorations around the site of the Greely camps. Lieutenant Peary and his friends deny that they have any such relics aboard.

AMERICAN SUFFERS
AT SPAIN'S HANDS

SERIOUS CHARGE ARE MADE AGAINST CAMPOS.

John Sowers, a United States Citizen Expelled From Cuba After Being Subjected to Indignities—Sensational Rumors About the Barcastegui—Spanish Troops Win Victory.

Washington, Sept. 23.—John Sowers, an American sugar planter at Sagua, Cuba, who was imprisoned by General Campos and subsequently ordered to summarily leave Cuba, passed through Washington last night on his way to his old home at Warrenton, Va. He will return to Washington in a few days to present his case to the state department. Sowers claims that he was in no ways identified with the insurgents, but was nevertheless imprisoned by Campos' orders for ten days and subjected to many indignities. When released he was forced to leave Cuba on twenty-four hours' notice. The brief time allowed did not give him opportunity to arrange for the departure of his wife and children, who are still in Cuba. Mr. Sowers will ask the state department to demand a heavy indemnity from Spain for interfering with the rights of a law-abiding American citizen. Mr. Sowers says he believes the Cubans will be successful in achieving their independence. "They are fighting," said he, "not so much against the Spanish, as to throw off the yoke of a government which they regard as oppressive and detrimental to their interests."

CAUSED BY A TORPEDO.

Sensational Rumor About the Sinking of the Barcastegui.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 23.—An entirely different explanation of the sinking of the Spanish cruiser Barcastegui and the loss of forty-six lives in the harbor of Havana last Wednesday night is made in letters received in this city by a distinguished member of the Cuban revolutionary party.

According to the news telegraphed from Havana the day after, the catastrophe was due to a collision between the cruiser and the merchant steamer Mortera. It is now stated as an absolute fact that the Barcastegui was sunk by a floating torpedo launched by an adventurous party of Cubans. The Cuban leader who received the letter said:

"The Spanish government knows full well that sunk their best cruiser and sent to their deaths Admiral Delgado Perea in command of the Spanish navy in Cuban waters, seven officers and thirty-four men. We know here that before the dispatch relating to the accident was sent it was carefully edited by the press censor. The advice which I have received say that on Monday night a party of ten Cubans, under the command of Captain Carlos Enrique, left Guantanamo in a steam launch, with a new style of torpedo, which was the recent invention of an American. It was an ingenious device so constructed that it could be launched some distance away from the object aimed to be destroyed, and then by a piece of clockwork explode in about fifteen minutes after it is sent out. Captain Enrique selected a point about 200 yards from the war vessel from which to launch the torpedo. It was slipped out and as soon as it was gone Captain Enrique gave orders to steam away as rapidly as possible.

"The work of the torpedo was even more speedy than anticipated. Not five minutes elapsed before it exploded with a loud report that was heard several miles away. From what those on the boat say it must have gone off about fifty feet away from the cruiser, and struck her on the starboard side. It is true that the merchant steamer Mortera was near the war vessel at the time, and that she, too, suffered damage, but it was not serious by any means, and if the men on board of her had kept their heads they might have saved some of the lives of those on board of the Spanish cruiser."

MUST ANSWER AT ONCE.

Great Britain's Attitude on the Venezuelan Question to Be Known.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Secretary Olney since his return has reopened the Venezuelan boundary dispute. The views of the state department on this subject were conveyed to the British government last August by Ambassador Bayard. But Secretary Olney is now insisting upon an early reply, so that the question may be in the way of a satisfactory settlement when congress meets. It is learned that the Venezuelan question is one in which Secretary Olney is personally interested and that while he was yet attorney-general he prepared a brief on the case and submitted it to the cabinet, contending that Great Britain had set up an unwarranted claim to the disputed territory.

END OF BOND SYNDICATE.

Members Receive Their Profits and Dissolve.

New York, Sept. 23.—The managers of the government bond syndicate have taken action which is regarded as a formal dissolution of the syndicate, the government having no longer any need of its services. The managers sent out checks, which were received by the members of the syndicate giving them the profits of the operations of the syndicate, the members having already received the principal which they had placed in the hands of the managers. The exact percentage of profit is, not at present, obtainable, but it is understood that after allowing interest on the money for the period during which it was in the hands of the managers, the profits are a trifle below 6 per cent.

KILLED HIS SWEETHEART.

Sensational Murder and Suicide at Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Stinson's father was formerly the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific agent at Fairfield. The girl was Arta Moore, of Panora, a student at the Iowa college. President Gates, of the college, arrived in the city and identified the body. He ordered it embalmed and shipped to Panora. The girl came from Grinnell Friday night. Stinson met her at the train and they took rooms at the Hotel Asher. The couple retired early. The man shot the girl while she was sleeping. No word has come from Stinson's relatives.

SEVERE ON CHINA.

William E. Curtis Calls It the Pest-Breeding Center of the Universe.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 23.—William E. Curtis, who is the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Record, was a passenger on the steamer Gaelic, which arrived from the orient yesterday. He went to Japan in May last to study the commercial and industrial prospects afforded Americans in that country and lately he has been in China, which he describes as the pest-breeding center of the universe. He said:

"The cholera has attained fearful proportions in China. Chinese are dying by the thousands. I passed through the streets of Peking, Shanghai and Tien-Tsin and saw cholera victims dead and dying on every hand. It is no uncommon sight to see the dead bodies of cholera victims lying on the street on one block, and in the next a lot of Chinese gorging themselves with raw cucumbers and melons. The cholera is all attributable to the filthy habits of the Chinese and the weather. The summer was quite cool until August. Then a spell of excessively hot weather came on and with it the cholera."

Killed by a Landslide.

Quebec, Sept. 23.—A report comes from St. Luc, Champlain county, of a disastrous landslide on the Champlain river, Saturday night. Zephirum Normandin's house was carried away, and five members of the family were buried in the debris. Three children escaped by jumping through the window, one of whom has since become insane as the result of the calamity. After great difficulty the residents of the vicinity succeeded in digging out the five dead bodies. Further destruction is almost certain, as the river is blocked with the detached earth and the river bank is being inundated at other points.

The market is nearly empty, and the factories expect a steady business for a full year.

WIND IN A FURY
NEAR MADISON.

The Howling Gale Did Much Damage Yesterday Afternoon.

LIVES MAY HAVE BEEN LOST AT DANE.

Limited Train From St. Paul to Chicago Rushed Out of the Way of the Torpedo by a Brave Engineer—Under Full Head of Steam—An Inch of Water Fell at LaCrosse and Much Damage Was Done—Other Storm News.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 23.—The extreme hot weather of the last week was followed yesterday by a heavy wind and rain storm that covered the whole county. At places the wind did much damage. At the village of Dane, twenty miles north of this city, the windstorm took the form of a cyclone and did great damage, uprooting trees and blowing down buildings. The storm damaged the telegraph wires through this portion of the state, making communication with northern points almost impossible. It cannot be learned whether any lives were lost or not. A passenger train on the Northwestern road from Minneapolis bound for Chicago barely escaped the cyclone. The engineer crowded on full head of steam on a down grade and thus took his train out of the path of the storm.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 23.—The long spell of heat ended suddenly yesterday, with a furious rain, in which nearly half an inch of water fell in twenty minutes. The rain was accompanied by a wind reaching an extreme velocity of nearly forty-five miles an hour. The streets are littered with branches and a good many large trees were blown down. Several plate glass windows were blown in. The temperature was 94 just before the storm and at 6 o'clock this evening it is 52.

At 4 o'clock the thermometer registered 96 degrees. The mean temperature for the day was 86 degrees, which is 22 degrees above the normal for Sept. 22. The humidity was low, however, there being only 49 per cent. of the moisture in the atmosphere.

It is clear, with prospects of frost. Corn is beyond the possibility of danger.

Heavy Snowfall in Colorado.

Denver, Col., Sept. 23.—Nearly the entire state of Colorado is covered by a mantle of snow, although yesterday bright sunshine made great inroads upon it on the plains and in the valleys. American Claims Damages.

Tampa, Fla., Sept. 23.—John Repko, for fifteen years proprietor of the Roman Grand Continental hotel at Havana, arrived here last night. He is a Hungarian by birth, but became an American citizen ten years ago. The kitchen and warehouse connected with his hotel were built upon a government lot for which he paid the rental. July 19 at midnight he and his family, consisting of his wife and six children, the oldest but 9 years, were forcibly ejected from their property. Every vestige of furniture was removed and the entire property confiscated. All this was occasioned by a debt of $300, which Repko owed the government for rent of the lot. Repko was then taken sick and remained so for several weeks. He has placed his case under the management of F. R. Swift, editor of the Bridgeport (Conn.) Herald, to whom all papers pertaining to it have been forwarded. The damages claimed are $800,000.

DEFICITS TO BE MET.

The syndicate which was hired at a cost of $4,000,000 last summer to do what the government could not do has decided to quit. What will come next—another bond issue, or a special session of congress to amend the revenue laws? For, disguise it as they may, democrats must admit sooner or later that insufficient revenues are at the root of all their trouble. If the deficits could be stopped, it would be easy to adjust all the rest of our financial disorders.

Now and then an administration organ is candid enough to admit that this is the correct view, and that the technical explanations are mere sophistry and misrepresentation. The New York "Evening Post," for instance, in a burst of fairness, says that "if the revenue of the government rose above its expenditures, we should have no currency difficulty of a pressing nature." That is to say, if the government could pay its bills promptly not of its daily receipts there would be no serious entanglement of our finances and no occasion to enlist the services of a combination of bankers to prop the treasury and protect the public credit. The democrats have had full control of the government, with power to pass any law they pleased and to impose taxes to any desired extent; but they have failed to use this power in such a way as to provide sufficient revenue and to prevent financial misfortunes. They enacted a tariff law which was intended to furnish as much money as was needed to meet all legitimate demands but which has fallen miserably short of its purpose. In a time of profound peace, the richest country in the world has been compelled on account of this blundering policy to add to its bonded debt twice as much as the cost of the Mexican war of 1812. A monthly deficit has been substituted for the monthly surplus that attended republican rule; and with this has come all the other evils which have disturbed the evenness of the operations of the government, and produced so much confusion and distress in the business of the country.

MCARTHY STILL AT LARGE.

Alderman Buck McCarthy of Chicago has not been arrested. There is no reason to suppose he will be. He is too useful. True he gouged out the eye of a fellow alderman and he and his gang are all but responsible for the taking of a human life. Had Thursday's fight in the Great Northern hotel occurred between truckmen every one in the crowd would have been arrested long ago. But Buck McCarthy is a man who controls votes. When republicans are in power he is a republican. When democrats rule his word carries the weight of a democratic boss. He is not for republicanism; he is not for democracy; he is for McCarthy. Men of just such principles hold the balance of power in both parties in all the large cities. Most of them rule by finesse. McCarthy rules by main strength. The men he has beaten, maimed and maimed, are many. Lammers, his last victim, may die. Paul Hull, a slightly-built, Chicago newspaper man, will carry to the grave injuries he inflicted. His record of outrage is a long one. In spite of all that he "is around town snapping his fingers gleefully and showing friends how he 'gilled' Lammers." He boasts of his deed; forty men saw him deal blow after blow, but it is safe to say that in no Chicago court could he be convicted were he brought to trial.

That little Chinese negotiation last spring was profitable to all the powers concerned. Germany gets the island of Chusan, a fertile strip, twenty miles long, at the mouth of the Yang-Tse-Kiang river, which is navigable for more than 1,500 miles. Russia will gradually close in upon Corea, and France will extend its Tonquin boundaries, unless the bargain of the three allies in this business miscarries.

During all the Chickamauga exercises nobody explained how Lee was able to send from Virginia two divisions under Longstreet to re-enforce Bragg in Georgia without the discovery of the movement by Halleck or Meade. The move was one of the most remarkable in the history of the 1863 campaign.

Democratic falsehoods as to state school funds are met by the fact that all applications for loans have been granted, that $100,000 has been distributed about the state, and that the only delays have been caused by the depletion of the treasury under the administration of Boss Wall's roster gang.

Overflowing school houses tell a story about Janesville's growth that the census takers cannot counteract.

New York papers talk of the Sunday-law resolution adopted in Sar-toga as a "blow at Platt." It is likely, instead, to trench Platt more strongly in power than anything the republicans have done in years.

About one more democratic bond sale ought to protect the treasury until the republican party is restored to power and national finances are put on a sound basis.

P. MULCAIRNS PLEADS GUILTY

Admits That He Took $10 From Con. O'Leary—Other Court News.

The examination of Patrick Mulcairns on the charge of stealing ten dollars from Con. O'Leary, terminated rather abruptly in the municipal court this morning, he pleading guilty to the charge. Judge Phelps deferred sentence until he could look up the case, at 4 o'clock sentenced Mulcairns to 60 days in jail.

One case against Joshua Crall was dismissed when it came before Judge Phelps in the municipal court this morning, on he grounds that the complaint did not state an offense. This was an action begun by the Rock County Agricultural society, Crall being arrested on a criminal warrant for alleged unlawful entry on the fair grounds. WORSE THAN USELESS.

Do Not Use Cathartics For Indigestion.

The commonly used remedies are worse than useless, as they do not remove the cause. Cathartics are injurious, for although they move the bowels for a time, their action weakens the digestion and thus increases the difficulty they are intended to cure.

Persons using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will not be disappointed as their use not only properly digests the food, but gives proper assimilation and cures constipation by producing the proper quantity of bile.

The fact that they are used so largely by physicians is a great point in their favor, and many physicians treat their cases of indigestion almost entirely by these tablets or the same ingredients. The only difference being that when dyspepsia apply to a physician for them he charges you two or three prices for them besides his advice. Whereas if you go to your druggist he will sell you Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for only 50 Cents per box.

They may also be had by mail by enclosing price to The F. A. Stuart Co., chemists, Marshall, Mich.

J. SULLIVAN SHOT BY WM. CANARY.

A Quarrel Over a Dog Resulted In Bloodshed Sunday

VICTIM IS STILL ALIVE AND MAY RECOVER.

Ball Was Fired at Short Range and
Passing Through the Breast Bone, Lodged in the Man's Lungs Where it Still Lies—Canary Taken to Jail and Denies the Whole Story—Records of Both Men.

William Canary, proprietor of a saloon at the "Five Points" fired a bullet through John F. Sullivan's breast bone at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and Sullivan's life now hangs by a slender thread while Canary is locked up in the county jail to await the outcome of Sullivan's wound.

It was a quarrel over a dog between two men, both of whom had been to state's prison; a few hot words, the report of the too ready revolver; a hasty call for both surgeon and police; with the future prospect of a funeral and a murder trial.

Canary sits sullenly in his cell and solidly denies the whole story. Sullivan lies on a bed of pain at his Pearl street home, the same vitality that enabled him to walk several blocks after he had been shot, still sustaining him. There is a leaden ball in his lungs yet he is conscious and this morning was holding his own with rather remarkable success. If he can hold on for three days he will probably live, but if the internal hemorrhage that the doctors fear, comes, his death may be a matter of a few moments.

How the Trouble Began.
Sullivan left home between 7 and 8 o'clock yesterday morning, he says, and was walking down the street when he met Frank McConnell, a brakeman. Together they went to Canary's boarding house and saloon, where they bought a drink of whiskey. Then Frank Brennan, a St. Paul brakeman, and John Turner, of Watertown, who was here on business connected with the estate of a dead relative, came along. Some days ago Sullivan had sold a dog to Canary, for $1.50 and it was over this canine that the trouble arose. Canary had not paid for the dog, and Sullivan demanded his money. One word led to another and the argument grew quite heated, but the matter was finally dropped. By this time the dinner hour had arrived, and Sullivan went into the Canary dining room to eat dinner with Turner. After dinner Sullivan got the dog and left the place, leading the canine by the chain attached to its collar.

Came Back To Be Shot.
He walked to his home on Pearl street, and stalked about the neighborhood for some time, he says, and then decided to return to Canary's. It was an unlucky decision for him. Canary, according to all accounts, had cherished an ill will toward Sullivan, since the argument in the morning. He had also been drinking to some extent, and the whisky did not improve his disposition. Railroad men say that they heard three or four shots fired, apparently in the yard back of the Canary place, during the afternoon, and wondered why anyone should indulge in target practice on Sunday afternoon. However, they soon forgot the occurrence, and thought nothing of it until after they heard of the affray. Canary was in an ugly frame of mind when Sullivan came down the street, still leading the dog by the chain. He walked up to the side entrance of the Canary residence and had the screen door partly open, when the dog began to pull back.

"Come on Dick," Sullivan called to the dog, at the same time snapping his fingers.

Canary Shot Him Down.
The dog still hung back, and Sullivan had some difficulty with him, but finally he opened the screen and the inside door, pulling the dog along behind him. This door opened into the sitting room and parlor. As Sullivan pushed the inside door open he saw Canary standing in the sitting room. The saloonkeeper held a revolver in his hand.

"I'll fix you," he yelled as he leveled the weapon. As the barrel came in line with the stud in Sullivan's shirt front, Canary pulled the trigger. A sharp report echoed through the small room and the smell of burned powder filled the air. The women in the house screamed; Canary looked at his victim; while Sullivan, with a red stain growing in size on his white shirt front, backed out of the house and onto the sidewalk. Patrick Griffin sat just outside the door.

"He said he'd fix me, and I guess he has—with a thirty-two," Sullivan said, addressing Griffin. Then the wounded man turned and walked up Pleasant street to Peter Dolan's saloon, nearly a block distant, and entered.

"What's the matter? There's blood on your shirt," Miss Dolan said. Sullivan said he was shot, and turning left the place.

Walked Several Blocks.
After leaving Dolan's, Sullivan turned to his left, and walked rapidly up Washington street. When he reached the home of Dr. E. H. Dudley, 125 Washington street, he turned in and rang the bell. Dr. Dudley's son came to the door and told Sullivan that his father was out of the city. Then Sullivan turned and walked to the home of William Brown, 166 Washington street. He told Mr. Brown that he had been shot, so the latter summoned his brother, John, who lives next door, and they took Sullivan to his home, 111 Pearl street. Drs. Mills and Loomis were at once summoned by telephone and arrived at the Sullivan home about the same time.

After getting the doctors, Messrs. Brown telephoned to the jail that Sullivan had been shot, and from the jail, the message was sent to the Myers house, with instructions to "tell an officer." Officer Hogan happened to be passing, and was called in. William Canary has shot John Sullivan," was the message, and the officer at once went to Canary's house.

CANARY DENIED THE WHOLE STORY
Said He Knew Nothing of Any Shooting Being Done.

When the officer reached the Canary home, he entered the same door as Sullivan did. As he pushed it open he heard Canary talking inside.

"I'll kill the ————," Canary called just as the officer entered.

"Well, I guess you have" the officer remarked. "How is it about this shooting?"

Canary insisted that he knew nothing of any shooting, and said that Sullivan was not there. The report sent the officer did not say that Sullivan had gone, and as Canary refused to throw any light on the subject, Officer Hogan took Canary in tow, and started out expecting to find Sullivan somewhere in the neighborhood of the house. They walked across the tracks to the C. & N. W. depot, where it was learned that he had gone up Washington street. The officer and his prisoner started to follow him, and met Dr. Mills coming from the Sullivan house.

"Did Sullivan say who shot him?" the officer asked the doctor.

"Yes," the doctor answered, "he said Canary did it."

"Well, 'Bill,'" remarked the officer, "I guess we'll go to jail."

Canary Held His Tongue.

Canary had very little to say. He denied all knowledge of the shooting, and said he did not know of anybody being shot. That was his story and he stuck to it. This morning, however, he lost some of his stolidity, and admitted that Sullivan had been at the boarding house, but insisted that he knew nothing about him being wounded.

"I heard that there was some shooting about here somewhere," he said, "but that's all I know about it."

Further than that he refused to talk, and when Chief Acheson questioned him this morning, he had very little to say.

"That was a sad occurrence up to your place," said the chief.

"Sullivan has made me more trouble than any other man in town," Canary answered doggedly. "He ought not to come to my place," he added. He also said that Sullivan had "insulted a man and his lady in the parlor," but on the subject of the actual shooting he had no information to impart.

The revolver was not found on his person.

SULLIVAN'S INJURY DANGEROUS.

Ball Cut Through Half an Inch of Solid Bone.

Sullivan's injury is a rather peculiar one. The ball was fired at short range, and evidently from a revolver of excellent penetration. It struck Sullivan squarely on the breast bone or sternum, about two and one-half or three inches below the neck. The bone at that point is nearly half an inch thick, but the leaden ball cut through it like pasteboard, making a clean cut round hole. It's course was straight inward it striking nothing to cause it to glance. Strange as it may seem the bullet missed all the large arteries and blood vessels, which form a network in that part of the body, otherwise this story might be a different one. After cutting through the bone, the ball plowed its way into Sullivan's lung where it now lies.

When the doctors arrived they at once inserted a probe into the hole and searched for the ball. The probe went in two or two and one-half inches without striking any hard substance. The physicians did not think it safe to explore further, so they withdrew the silver probe and made the wounded man as comfortable as possible but made no further effort to find the bullet.

Sullivan May Recover.

Sullivan's life hangs on the developments of the next few days. If the internal hemorrhage which the physicians fear, ensues, he may not live but a few hours. But on the other hand, if he can get through the next three days without a hemorrhage, his chances for recovery are fairly good. He suffers considerable pain, especially when taking a long breath, but the fact that no large blood vessels were ruptured, leaves him with strength to fight the battle. He was resting comfortably this morning. His pulse was not at all alarming; he had no fever, and chances for his recovery were quite bright. He had suffered some internal hemorrhage, however, and the physicians could not tell what moment one that was severe enough to carry him off, would come.

"People often live with a bullet in their lungs," said Dr. Mills this morning. "But" he added rather significantly, "I do not want one in mine just the same."

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, with an anxious and comfortable atmosphere, rather in his favor. last ney H. S. Sloan was called later, as night to take Sullivan's statement; it was thought at that time that few death was only a question of a few hours.

BOTH MEN HAVE BEEN IN PRISON

Each Has Quite a Record in the Circuit Court.

Both Canary and Sullivan have served time in state's prison. The circuit court records give Canary's history as follows:

1877—April 27. Pleading not guilty to a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm. May 26—Found guilty by a jury and on May 30 sentenced to state's prison for three years.

1884—Return on a change of venue from the municipal court filed, the complaint charging assault with intent to do great bodily harm. This action was probably dismissed as no further record appears.

Sullivan's Record.
Sullivan's record is also a checkered one, the court records showing it to be as follows:

1877—April 23—Charge of burglarizing J. L. Ford's store, November 26. Pleading guilty entered November 27. Defendant sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. On January 1, Sullivan was conditionally pardoned by the governor.

1887, October 31—Charged with burglarizing Pat. O'Neill's shop November 26. Defendant pleaded guilty November 27, and was sentenced to two years in state's prison. January 1, 1880, conditionally pardoned by the governor.

1887, Oct. 31—Sentenced to state's prison for two years and pardoned by the governor conditionally, on Jan. 1. 1877, Oct. 31—Charge assault with a dangerous weapon (knife) on J. Griffin. November 26, District attorney enters a nolle.

OLD LEYDEN HOUSE GONE UP IN SMOKE

HISTORIC COUNTY LANDMARK
TOTALLY DESTROYED.

Built Sixty Years Ago and Was the
'Half Way Tavern' on the Road to Evansville—Loss is $2000 With No Insurance—Explosion Narrowly Averted.

One of Rock county's historic buildings was wiped out of existence when the old "Leyden House" in the town of Milton was totally destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon.

The building was owned and occupied as a residence by Hiram H. Cator. It caught fire in some mysterious manner between 12 and 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and the whole east end was blazing before the occupants knew of it. A strong gale of wind was blowing, and the dry building was licked up like tinders. The dinner was on the cook stove all ready to be served; but so rapid was the progress of the flames that the meal was destroyed where it stood. The building with its entire contents, including a fine piano and two gold watches were totally destroyed, not even the sills of the building being left. Two valuable shot guns belonging to Mr. Cator's son were saved, and a twelve pound can of gunpowder was rolled out just in time to prevent an explosion. Mr. Cator's loss will be $2,000 or more and he has no insurance on the property.

Other Property Was in Danger.

The barns and sheds on the place were not destroyed, but the residence of David Drummond, who lives across the road, was fired several times, as were also his barns; but hard work by the neighbors who rallied to his assistance and worked manfully with pails, saved them.

The "Leyden House" was one of the buildings erected when the country

'ALL SOULS' The Peoples Church
Devoted to the Betterment of Our City.

Know the Truth.

The Truth shall make you Free.

"ALL SOULS" insists that it is the duty of every rational creature who lives in a rational world to think and act rationally. From any point of view there is but one ignorance. The way of safety is the way of the knowledge. Ignorance incapacitates us for any useful place in life. Let the church, if it would be a real benefit to society, see that it is a means of education and enlightenment. The church is most a church when it is most a school. The actual value of the church can in no way be more exactly measured than by the growing thought and intelligence of its members.

Voluntuous.

A Philadelphia lawyer said a very bright thing the other day. He was seated with a group of friends, and they were discussing in a desultory way the leading topics of the day. One of the parties present, Mr. —, persisted in monopolizing more than his share of the conversation, and his views did not at all accord with those of the lawyer. As the men separated one of them said to the lawyer:

"That — knows a good deal, doesn't he?"

"Yes," replied the lawyer; "he knows entirely too much for one man; he ought to be incorporated."—Green Bag.

Not His Worst.

"Do your worst," she whispered, hoarsely.

His heart failed him.

"Do your worst."

The fateful words rang in his ears, and he was just as anxious as his wife to get rid of the company who had called, but he concluded at the last moment to do only his worst but one.

Accordingly he played, but did not sing.—Detroit Tribune.

Feminine Inconsistency.

It's no use talking, the woman said, When she rose to say her say.

It's no use talking, she shook her head, And talked for half a day.

—Boston Courier.

AN AFTERTHOUGHT.

He—I never saw anything like this tide. Here I've been pulling steadily for ten minutes, and we don't seem to have moved a foot!

She (after a pause)—Oh, Mr. Stroker, I've just thought of something—the anchor fell overboard awhile ago and I forgot to tell you. Do you suppose it could have caught on something?—Truth.

Take the Rest.

"Now," said the physician, who is noted for his heavy charges, "I must take your temperature."

"All right," responded the patient, in a tone of utter resignation. "You've got about everything else I own. There's no reason why you shouldn't take that, too."—Tit-Bits.

Could Not Dispose of It.

Mrs. Hussiff—So you're here again! Aren't you the tramp I gave a big biscuit to yesterday?

Rural Raggies—Yes, ma'am, but I hain't been able to sell it nowhere. Dere don't seem to be no demand fer paper weights in dis locality.—Bay City (Mich.) Chat.

Is This the Usual Method?

"The evidence, your honor—" began the policeman.

"Hang the evidence!" interrupted the police justice. "Has he any influential friends?"

"No, your honor."

"Then I'll hold him to the grand jury."—Chicago Evening Post.

What's in a Name?

Customer—Why, this is a new shade of red.

Assistant—Yes, madam. That is the anachronistic tint.

Customer—How did it come to get that name?

Assistant—It won't wash.—Louisville Post.

His Unpardonable Sin.

"No, George, it can never be."

"Oh, don't tell me that."

"Never—we must meet as strangers."

"Will you not give me a reason for this, Marion?"

"Yes; I've discovered that you turn your cuffs."—Chicago Record.

Suspected the Old Trick.

Aunt Jennima (entertaining her nephew from the city)—I see, Henry, by the looks of the Bible I left in your room, that you have been reading it.

Henry—Yes; I didn't know but you might have slipped a ten-dollar bill between the leaves.—Puck.

A Mere Quack.

Jobson—You don't mean to say you have engaged Dr. Quack for your sick daughter?

Bobson—Why, yes.

Jobson—Great snakes! Why, man alive, I wouldn't let that fellow doctor my mother-in-law.—N. Y. Weekly.

An American Comedy Probably.

Mr. Firstnight—Is everything full already? Haven't you even one seat for me?

Cashier—Don't be troubled. If you will wait till the second act there will be plenty of room.—Texas Siftings.

A Rare Chance, Perhaps.

Daughter—Here's a queer advertisement in the Trumpet: "A well cultured baby for adoption." Don't you think that means well nurtured?

Mother—I don't know. Perhaps it's a Boston baby.—N. Y. World.

He Saw Her Afterward.

Handsome Young Teacher—Miss Pert, give me the grammatical definition of kiss, please.

Miss Pert (saucily)—It's a conjunction, sir, and so can never be declined.—N. Y. Journal.

Why She Thought So.

"Do you think Cholly approves of the advanced woman?"

"Oh, he must. He says he's going to disperse with his man when he marries you."—Life.

Breezy Bits of Thought.

China is the biggest crop Japan has ever harvested.

Turkey must be up and Bedouin to stop the looting of her Arabs.

All the same, duck trousers are not the things to go into water with.

The diplomat who knows something should not open his mouth, for fear what he knows may escape.

Indianapolis people want the horse-hitching posts removed from their streets. They have a country village appearance.

The Amend Honorable.

Indignant Citizen—See here, sir! You reported in your paper that I was going around with a black eye. It's abominably false, sir. I am suffering from granulosis, and have to wear a patch to keep the light out.

Editor—I don't like to make corrections, my friend, but I'll fix it all right in the paper to-morrow. I'll announce that your antagonist is in bed with two black eyes.

His Excuse.

"What! supper not ready yet?" exclaimed the emancipated woman, as she threw off her overcoat, after a long day's business.

"I'm very sorry, dear," replied her husband, "but there was a bargain sale at Chintz & Chally's this afternoon, and there was such a crowd of men there I found it difficult to get what I wanted, and that delayed me."

Both Might Improve.

Workingman—If you fellows wot work wid you heads would do a little hand-work once in a while, you'd walk straighter.

Scientist—True. And if you men who work with your hands, would do a little head-work once in a while, you'd think straighter.

Cancer

Mr. A. H. Cransby, of No. 153 Kerr St., Memphis, Tenn., writes that his wife had cancer which had eaten two large holes in her breast, and which the best physicians of the surrounding country treated, and pronounced incurable. Her grandmother, and aunt had died of and when told this, the most eminent specialists of New York, under whose treatment she was placed, declared her case was hopeless. All treatment having failed, she was given up to die. S. S. S. was recommended, and astonishing as it may seem, a few bottles cured her sound and well. Our treatise on this disease will be sent free to any address.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW.

experiment of taking in a number of their friends as boarders, thereby making what may be termed a seaside cottage hotel. By this they are getting a home for investment as well as an investment that will pay handsomely and relieve them of considerable financial worry as to the paying side of the issue. There is great need of many such homes by the seashore as this. It is much better than life at a large hotel, it is more economical and much more social every way. Here a group of friends can come together and enjoy each other's society, have a good time, music, mirth and good fellowship combined, and all the disadvantages of life met with at the ordinary hotel left out of the question.

The design here shown is an excellent example of a home of this kind and costs about $4,500.

A frame house, designed to give a large amount of room, for use as a small private family hotel by the seashore, the third floor having same rooms as the second, except bathroom, 23 feet 6 inches front and 44 feet deep. Height of stories: Cellar, 6 feet 8 inches; first story, 10 feet; second story, 9 feet; third story, 8 feet.

Cellar walls of brick. Cellar floor cemented. Walls sand finished.

Frame sheathed, paper lined; first story clapboard finish, balance of side walls, gables and roofs shingled. Open brick fireplaces in dining room and parlor, with wood mantels. Brick set range in kitchen. Floors of yellow pine; woodwork white pine, filled and varnished. Outside blinds to all windows.

Exterior two coats paint and shingles creosoted. Gas piped, plumbed complete, cistern, cesspool, force pump and tank, and is a complete house.

The Suburbs of New York.

The architect of his own fortune must frequently change his plans and specifications; so it is with every young man just entering upon life. To suit the tide of transpiring events, he must often change his plans for the future and set aside tomorrow that which looks the most feasible to-day. Thus many who have looked upon the living in a city flat as the height of their ambition will be found in the future enjoying their own home in the country. Land is yet plentiful within 25 miles of New York and there is plenty of it that can be had for $500 an acre upward, ground that in the future will double in value many times. Such ground is worth buying, and there are hundreds of those in New York who might look a little farther out from the city to very great advantage to themselves. Any land within 30 miles of the city must necessarily, by the future tide of events keep increasing in value and as the facilities for quick transportation to such points increase, as they surely will. The purchaser of today gets well ahead of the times and profits by such increase.

Revival of Building Industries.

The general advance of the prices of nearly all building materials indicates that the present business revival is of healthy nature, and that it has come to stay. During the past month nails have advanced 85 cents per keg; cast iron, $2.50 per ton; structural iron and steel, $3 to $4.50 per ton; lumber, $1 to $2 per thousand, and everything that goes into a building has stiffened up in cost—so much so that the difference in building at this date over that of three months ago is on a general average 10 per cent more. That it will increase another 10 per cent is almost certain, as there is a large amount of work planned and contemplated for erection.

The Cyclist Safe From Lightning.

Lightning rods have had their day, and a tube of dry air is said to be the best possible protector against the electric fluid. Thus a cyclist on his machine may, like Ajax, defy the very flash of the heavens—the lightning cannot touch him. A wheel is therefore the safest place, even when indoors, when the thunders crash and forked lightning plays about. At least so say the scientists, and some of that fraternity have worked out the odds against a rider being struck as about 50,000,000 to 1.—Chicago Tribune.

A Good Thing to Remember.

The telegraph and telephone poles are landmarks which are often of great aid to the bicyclist who is on a tour. The lines of wire usually skirt the main thoroughfares, and many journeys between fairly large centers of population can be made without danger of losing the way if these poles are followed.—New York Tribune.

Look Aloft.

When a feller goes a-huntin' for a rose He shouldn't be a-thinkin' of the thorn; He must woo it, he must win it—Where his heart beats he must pin it An' breathe the breath that's in it Every morn'!

When a feller goes a-huntin' for a rose He shouldn't see the thorn beneath its breast!

But for all its thorny foes, Red and reckless—one poor rose Is sweet enough, God knows, For the best.

—Frank L. Stanton.

When they put a man in jail, he cannot follow his natural inclinations. He cannot eat what he wants to—he is limited to a very frugal diet. Is it not equally true of a dyspeptic? For all of the real enjoyment he gets out of life, he might as well be in jail. He cannot eat what he likes, nor enough. He suffers much, gets little sympathy. At first, perhaps a little heaviness in the stomach, a little sourness, windy belchings and heartburn. Headaches and biliousness and a foul taste in the mouth in the morning. Chronic constipation is almost inevitable, and means that the body is holding poisonous, impure matter that should be gotten rid of. The poison is being reabsorbed into the blood and the whole body. Impurity in the blood may lead to almost any disease. Constipation is the start of it all. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, cure it so it stays cured. No other remedy in the world will do that. Of druggists.
